“The more you read, the more you know; the more things you learn, the more places you will go “

I agree with Dr. Seuss because reading has allowed me to learn and travel to many places. I have been into space, into the deep sea, and have been into the savanna. So many places I have gone, and it does not stop there because there is still so much.

During my travel to space, I helped Missile Mouse to save the earth. We passed beyond the asteroid belt to prevent General Nivlak’s ship from destroying the earth. Fortunately, we made it on time and were able to stop him.

My next trip was into the deep ocean in the company of an orca, also known as killer whale. In this traveling I learned that an orca is family oriented, and it protects its child. I also, learned that they use eco locations like the bats.

My last recent trip was into the savanna accompanied by a Rhino. During this trip I learned that there are five types of rhinos: the White, Indian, Black, Javan, and Sumatran Rhino. Also, that they are not meat eaters and have been in the earth for over millions of years.

All these things I have been able to see through reading. My imagination has allowed me to travel that far. There are still many more places I want to see, but will only occur the more I read.
